

Daymare

Daymare (2016) is a piece that was written for a reading at ECU in 2016. The melody that the bassoon has at the beginning is repeated and transformed throughout the piece with homorhythmic interjections contrasting the frequent occurrences of counterpoint. The changing and shifting moods potentially evoking a dreamlike state, and the overall brightness perhaps evoking the day.