Eulogy

-For Choir and Brass Quintet -

Eulogy Key

Vocal

This is a pitch bend.

This indicates to make sounds that are significantly more airy than pitched. The "ɑ" is an accented open mouthed ah sound and the "m" is almost a hum.

Note: Lyrics outside of the text are written in IPA.

Brass

This indicates to have a harmon mute in the bell of the instrument and then to put your hand on the end to create a sort of vibrato effect. The gesture should grow and die in frequency over its duration.

This is a flutter tongue.

Note: In the music there are written indications for when mutes are used and dropped.

Eulogy

I hope you will understand,
When I can't come back again,

I know you will have the strength when the time comes,
To be yourself at all costs,
Ah, to shed this burden
These lies will at last be lost,

but,

What are you supposed to do,
When life has come and gone?
When you no longer can feel,
The things that you have done?

Sometimes it makes me wonder,
If it is not all as bad as it seems,
As life is,
When I compare it to my dreams,

Lilac lights paint a pale horizon,
Near enough to touch yet so far away,
To see those light blue blossoms once more,
Feel how on the gentle wind they'd sway,

I was hoping that I'd finally won,
When I mistook that light for the rising sun,
The truth!
Dawned on me with great pain and,
I knew that I was there again,

Lilac lights paint a pale horizon,
Near enough to touch yet so far away,
To see those light blue blossoms once more,
Feel how on the gentle wind they'd sway,
